SodaStream conceals the fact that its products are manufactured in an illegal Israeli settlement on stolen Palestinian land by using “Made in Israel” labels. SodaStream exploits Palestinian land, resources, and labor.

Palestinians in the West Bank have been living under Israel’s military occupation for over 45 years. They do not have voting or other rights that Israeli citizens hold.

SodaStream lets New Yorkers carbonate water, but Israel limits many of SodaStream’s own employees, West Bank Palestinians, to an average of 18.5 gallons of water per day while Israelis use over 4 times that amount.
